Student Life

Where It All Begins

Capac High School is a very special place; when you add a little fun, and a little bit of education, you can go a long way. Here at CHS, we strive for excellence, but we also strive through self-motivation. CHS students are one of a kind. They depend on each other and not just on themselves.

Well, what is Student Life? It's the life of the student, DUH!!! No, seriously, it is people spending time with each other and seeing that everything is going alright between everybody. Just today, I saw two girls arguing who were good friends. Then, later that day I saw them hugging each other, saying how sorry they were for not listening to what the other had to say. To me, that was a very special moment in Capac. Here, we have that in common--when somebody is down in the dumps, there is always someone there, ready to help pick them right back up. The true friendships here at Capac are forever lasting, and will stand the test of time.

In closing, student life is a big part of our lives, especially for seniors. They only have a few months to go! Make sure you make great student life memories that will last you a lifetime. Good luck, and have fun!

Thirsty Mike? It's not that hard to drink Jello... is it?

Style

Different for Everyone

Style-it means so many things to so many different people. In Capac High school it means expressing yourself in a way that no one else can.

As you walk through the halls of Capac High you may not notice a lot of difference in the way that people dress, but there is. From wearing the latest fashions to wearing what you like, nobody judges you for it. Students here accept you for who you are and that includes how you dress and what you look like.

From shoes to hairdos it is all considered fashion or style. This page illustrates the differences and the importance of your style.

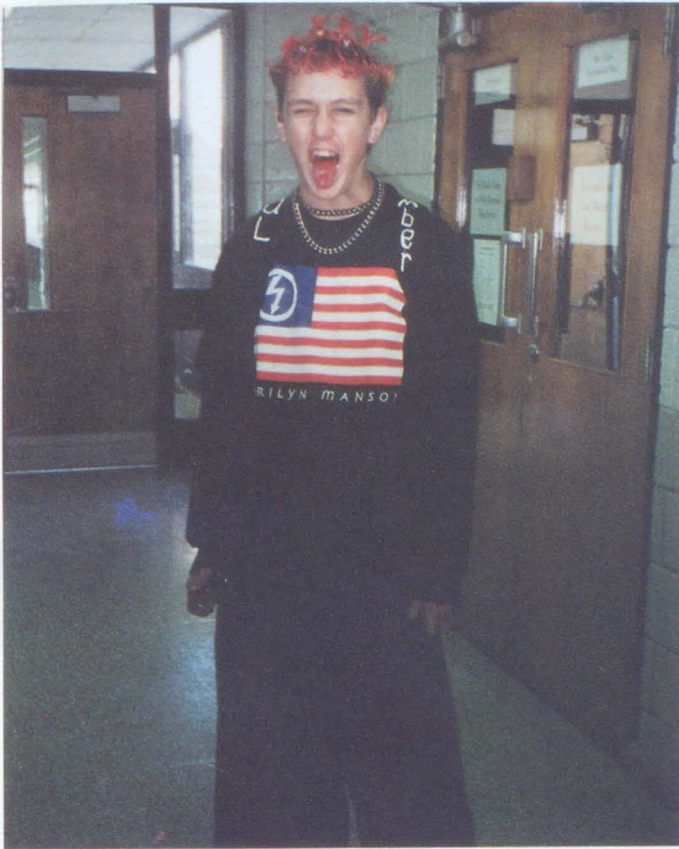

Junior stud Chad Lietz gives his thumbs-up to the latest style, Tommy Hillfiger.

Lauren Shea uses wings to express her style.

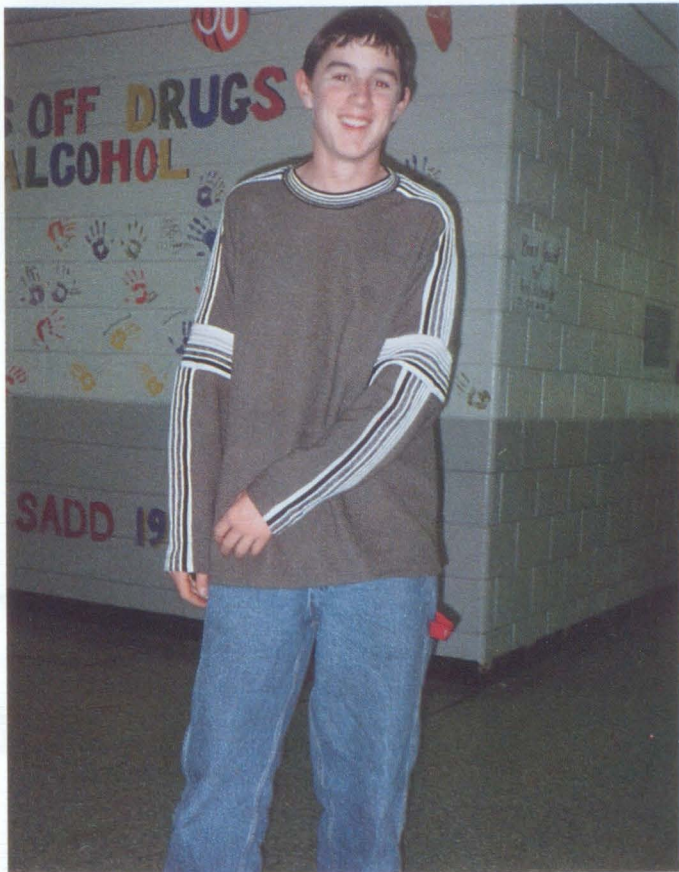

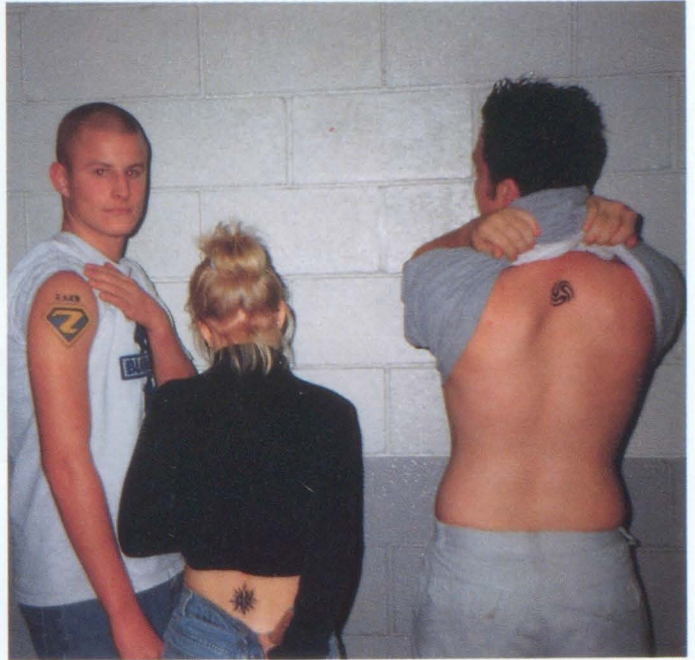

No, it's not Halloween, it's Wacky Wednesday for Jennie Page and Katrina Campau!

Zack Stroup, Jessica Janicki, and Doug Granby show their wild side and their creative side by getting tattoos to express their style.

Hey, Mark Halfacre, is there something in the back of your pants or do they always fall down like that?

Come on Larry Powers don't be afraid to show off your new stylish outfit to the camera.

Christina Leigh and Jessica Walker are not afraid of showing their style during homecoming week.

Love

The Masters of our School

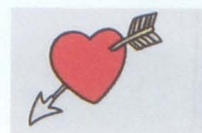

BACK TO THE BASICS . . .

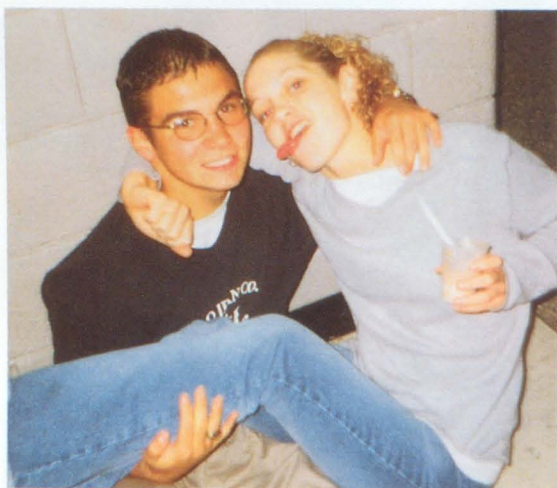

School serves our basic need to learn, it's a place where our appetite for knowledge can be satisfied; a place where we socialize, communicating in many ways.

Driven by our need to be heard and understood, FLIRTING takes on a whole new meaning:

FLIRT \fl rt\ vb 1: to behave amourosly without serious intent 1b: to behave in a frivious or enticing manner 2: to show casual interest 2b: having a superficial interest in oneself (with an idea, danger, etc.)

QUESTION ANSWER

Steve Gorski and Jen Helzer show a more blunt way to be noticed by the opposite sex.

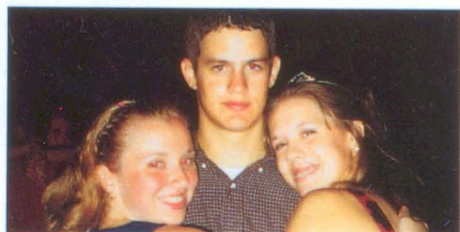

What is the first thing you look for in the opposite sex?

"I look at their eyes at first, then I look at their body"
--Jesse Croxon

What do you do to get someone to notice you?

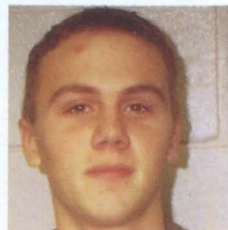

"I really don't do anything different- I just act like myself."
--Alyssa Giroux

Tony Martin--the babe magnet...Tracy Nettnay and Nicole Reneski can't resist!

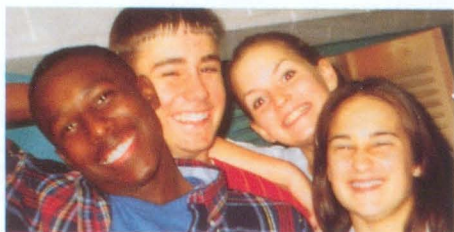

What is your favorite pick-up line?

"What's your name hot stuff? Want to go ride bikes sometime?"
-- Jim Luellen

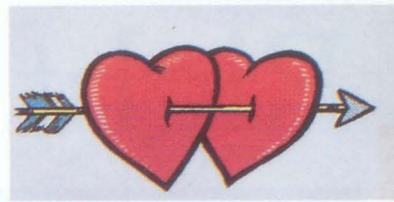

What is more important to you- looks or personality?

"I feel that looks are important in the beginning, but personality is what makes the real difference."
--Misty Gunn.

Right now, nothing else matters to Mr. Glennie and Mr. Standerfer, as they concentrate on winning the game (right).

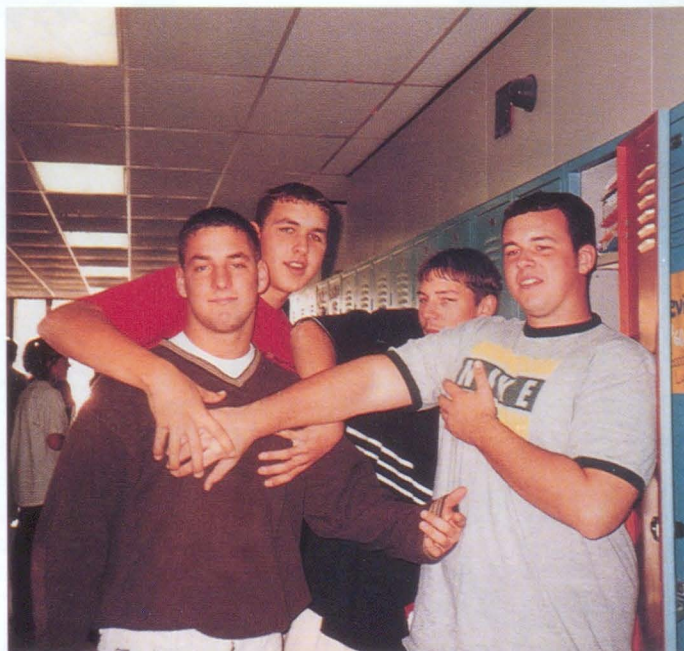

As of right now, all Jenn Chouinard cares about is struggling back into her bus seat.

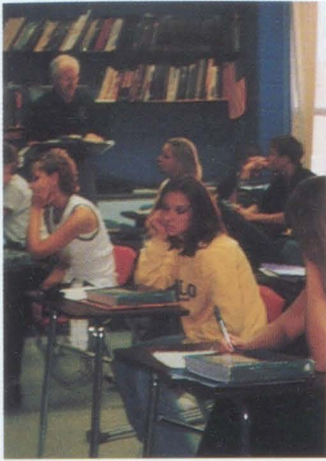

Unable to contain their laughter, Katie Lewis and Tina Hummel let it all out.

Brent Smith, Jason Wagner, Nathan Helzer, and Nick Wagner can't wait for their girlfriends to get out of class, they need some TLC right now.

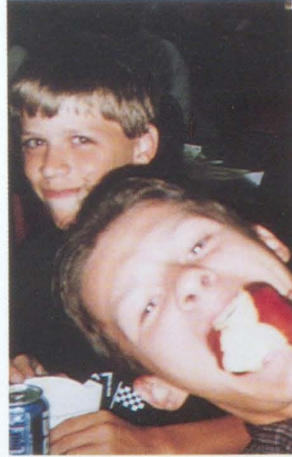

The only thing Jeanette Felek can think about right now is sleep!

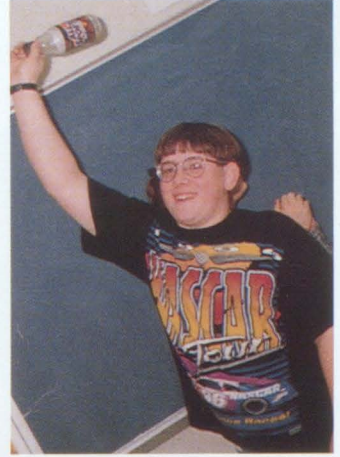

"Read my sticky note right now!" yells Amber Burk.

Right now, the most important subject Paul Camire can study is lunch.

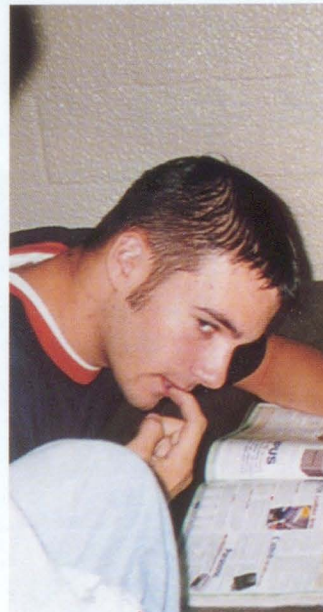

Randy Mayer raises his All-sport to the ceiling and exclaims, "Yes! I'm sure!"

They have arrived! Jen Coman, Mandy Crandall, and Tina Binder are all smiles because right now, they're on their way to state tryouts for FFA.

Winning on a Different Kind of Court

Homecoming Court '98

From picking out your date to picking out your outfit, homecoming is all about decisions. The choices you make can help to make Homecoming a great time. This year, the Class of 1999 decided to be represented by Gayle Chupa, Tiffany Ellis, Rachal Kozak, Shauna Richardson, Livio Mordisini, Matt Murray, Jeremy Tice, Adam Watteny, and the king and queen... Danielle Armstrong and Paul Camire!

Shauna and Tiffany try to hide their nervousness through smiles!

Shaunalin is searching for her Prince Charming. Don't give up Shauna! You'll find him someday!

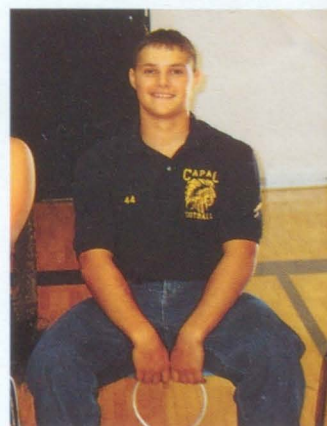

Gayle's parents show their support for Capac and cheer her on at the same time.

Closing Time

Wish You Were Us?

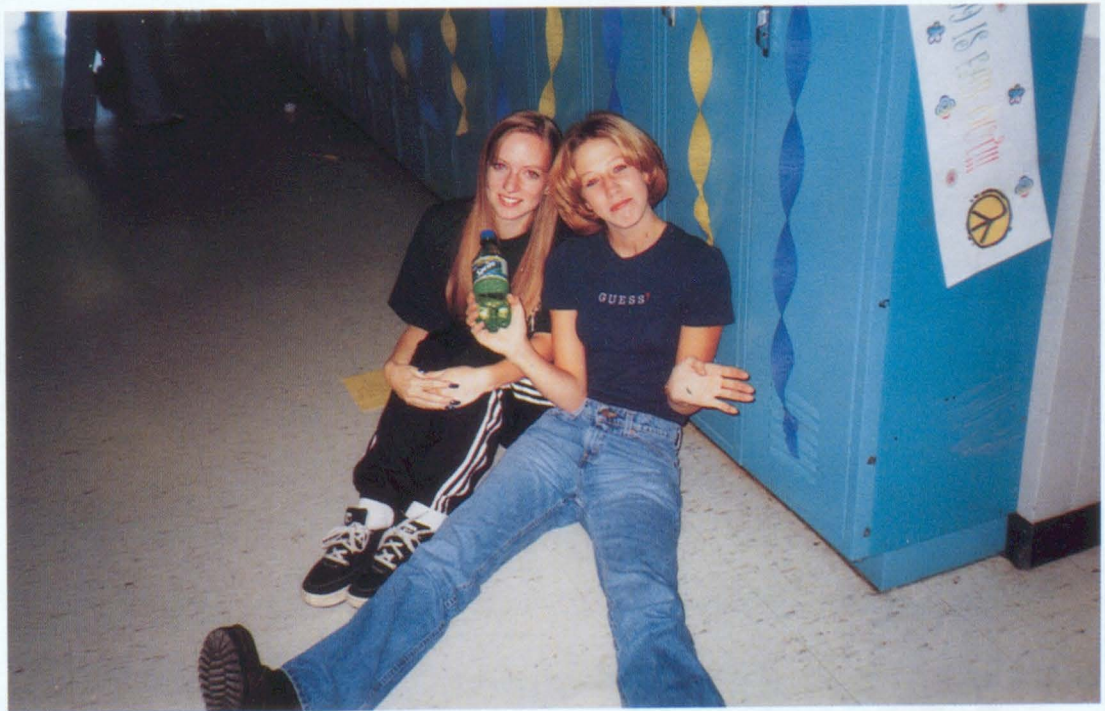

Fond memories.... Ah, the first day of school seems like only yesterday. The fear...the excitement...and best of all...NO MOM!

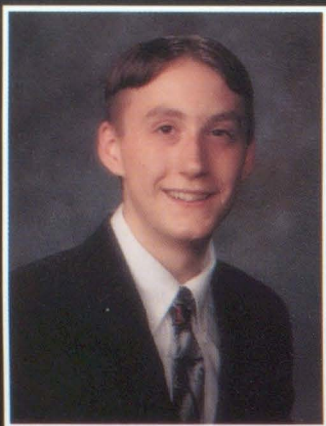

Here we are our last year in high school, "Seniors," counting the days to graduation and the first day of the rest of our lives.....We have encountered many first days, but always with support and knowledge so that we forged through successfully.

Although we had our disagreements on where to sit at lunch, the class colors, caps and gowns, or just where to park, the Class of 1999 came together when it counted. We really showed support for our school when we won the spirit jug three years in a row and the float trophy three times!!

The doors of Capac High School will soon close behind the Class of 1999, but Capac High School has helped to open the doors to our futures. We will always remember fondly the good times and the bad times, Wishing We Were Here again!

Being a senior is such hard work. Amanda Rostine and Amie Thomas must sit down to take a break.

Seniors

A CRAZY WAY TO END

Laughing, crying, sharing, it happens to every senior at some point in their last year. Our class, the Class of 1999, has made enough memories to last a life-time. We have made friendships stronger than any glue. Certainly, our lives will go on after high school, but the moments, we will cherish forever. Whether it's winning the spirit jug for the third year in a row or watching our childhood friends grow and mature, we all have our own special time.

Capture each moment as it happens, because it only happens once. We only have this last year to live life carefree. Do everything that is possible to live life to it's fullest. And remember-- we are only one class in a millenium.

Is that a little troll behind Tiffany Ellis or is just Gayle having a good time? (above)

A Bright Future Forming

While We Are Here

We all have a future, but what we do now determines it. High school is where it all begins. Dorcas Hardy may have said it best when he said, "The person with the primary responsibility to the individual's future is that individual." Academics play a key role in deciding our own future.

With a good education and positive outlook on life, we can choose the right path to success. Although some of us may be lured off track by events going on around us, with a firm foundation that a good education provides, we can find our way. These distractions may make the best memories of our high school days but, they can also make us lose sight of our goals and responsibilities. Though we all stray from the path from time to time, with the proper assistance we will climb the ladder of success and eventually to reach the top. When you know what you want from life and strive to achieve it, you will have a good chance to of 'making it' in life.

They say that high school is the best time of our lives, and they are right. We learn so much from the mistakes we make in our friendships and relationships, which knowledge we will need in real life. There is one thing we will all remember as we look back here together, and that is the tons of fun we had at 'CHS'.

What a perfect
angle, smiles Ms.
Winiarski.

EXCHANGE STUDENTS

This year there were five exchange students in Capac. They came from Switzerland, Germany, Austria, and Brazil.

Alexandra Wagenleitner, from Austria, stayed with the Brinker family and she was in the Writing Club. "I like to be in Capac. It has a very friendly atmosphere," stated Alexandra.

Ariana Gomes comes from Brazil. She especially liked the big events like Homecoming, the games, and the pep assemblies. "I wish we had something like this in Brazil," said Ariana. She stayed with the Richardsons.

Anke Moellers, from Germany, lived with the Campaus and participated in cross-country and yearbook. "The people are so proud of their school here. We don't have this in Germany," stated Anke.

Livio Mordasini, from Switzerland, said: "I really like Capac. I prefer living in a little town rather than a big city." He stayed with VanWormers and participated in cross country.

Davia Ruge, from Germany lived with the Potter family. She stated:

I am happy to be in Capac.

The school spirit is Awesome.

I've never met such friendly People.

I'm grateful for such A special experience.

I invite you all to my Country."

Class Time

KNOWLEDGE IS POWER

Here at Capac High School, we all live very busy lives, but, we all have one thing in common: CLASSES. Classes are a vital part of our schooling. They help us pave the way to the future. One thing you can be sure of is that a class at CHS is never boring. With all the crazy and exciting things that happen to us, there is never a dull day. Breaking the routine are students falling asleep in class, note passing, "free-days" that some teachers give us, and the "free-days" that we give ourselves! Even though, we are easily side-tracked by our non-academic events, learning is why we are really here.

TEC

A DIFFERENT APPROACH

What is TEC? What does it involve? Is it a technical center or just a few easy credits?

TEC is more than you think. It is an open door of opportunities. It is a place of hands-on training, and a world of dreams, hopes, and goals. TEC gives you a jump-start to your career and an opportunity to perform your work in real-life situations.

TEC gives you a wide range of choices: nursing, culinary arts, cosmetology, business, and mechanical training are just a few of the options you have. TEC is a place where you are allowed to push yourself to the maximum. Education is first at TEC, then at your request, you may choose to take part in the co-op experience. Co-op is when the students have learned the job requirements and are assigned a job that has to do with the subject they are studying. In the TEC environment, students are surrounded with everything necessary to succeed in life.

TEC is also the place to meet new people. "For three hours, in a class of about twenty people, you have to work together in order for everything to run smoothly" says Bonnie McMillan of Culinary arts.

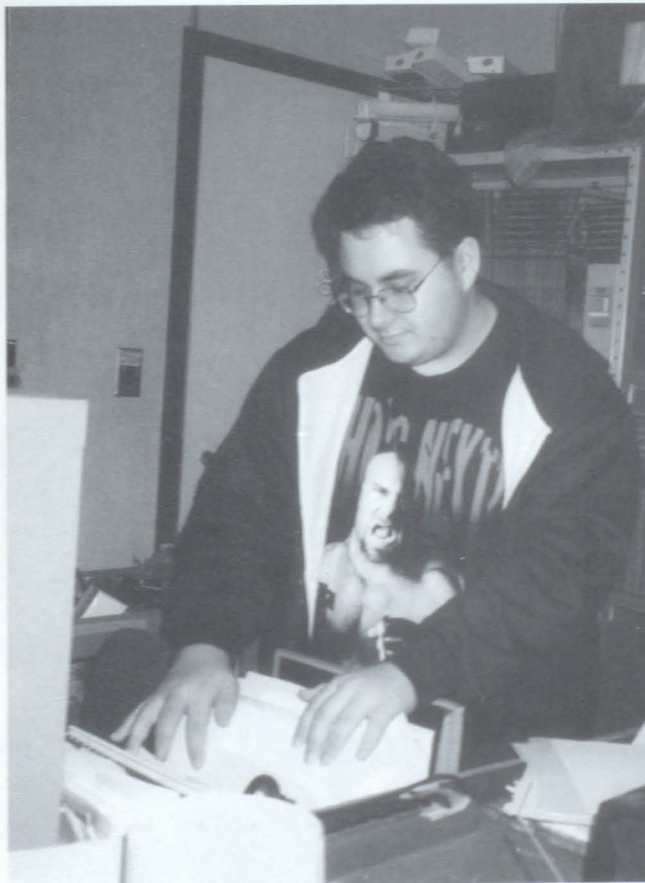

TEC isn't just learning about basic concepts of life, it is about applying yourself to your goals in order to explore your future.

Cooking up a little mischief is Bonnie McMillan.

Working as a team are Mike Slattery, Serafin Ramirez and Bobby May.

Overwhelmed with work is Sarah Bearden. (above)

LUNCH PEOPLE TO THE RESCUE

"Food, food, food..." chants the hungry hoard of students in the lunch line. Bodies are shoved aside, toes stepped on, food spilled. None of the students realize what a hard time the seven lunch workers have serving hungry teen-agers. Through their hard work and dedication, the masses are fed and the brain power can continue to flow.

Little Debbie girl "Chris" prepares for the lunch rush.

Always smiling is the head lunch lady, Mary Darton.

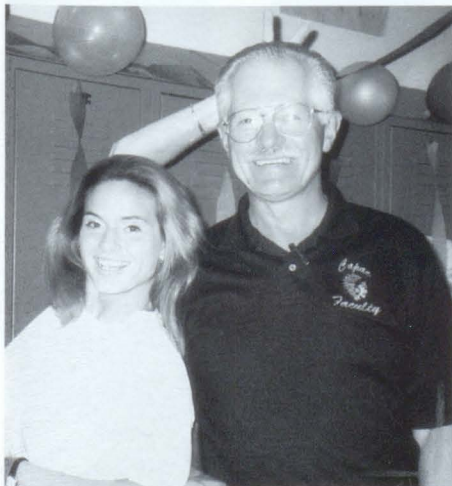

"What are you looking at?" says Mary.

"Maybe I can tape these sisters up," says Little Debbie.

Teacher's Aide

A TEACHER'S BEST FRIEND

There are many times when teachers sigh to themselves and wish that they had a helping hand. Wishes can come true. At Capac High, teachers are allowed to have student aides assist them with daily tasks such as attendance, making copies, and just helping out. The aides must be a junior or senior and fulfill the required GPA. Sometimes student aids wish they had an aide for themselves.

Showing her support to her favorite teacher, Niki Laford gives Mr. Marzka bunny ears.

Can anyone guess who Dana Buckalew is an aide for?

"Am I in school, or what?" asks a stunned Jeff Greenia. Is he really an aide?

Looking like a good, studious student is senior Jesse Croxen.

Taking time to refund their tired bodies Chris, Larry, and James show how aides behave at lunch.

POINTING TO THE FUTURE

Teachers are known for providing direction to their students and encouraging them to reach new heights and shoot for the stars. So, it should come as no surprise when two of Capac's finest, Ms. Susan Miller (left), and Mr. Jason Vamvas (right) demonstrate the finer points of this educational technique.

Showing off their manly muscles are the "studs" of the underclassmen.

Smiling and showing how much they enjoy school are the mislead eighth graders.

A Bright Future

Undergrads

Different? Original? Strange!? These are the words that describe this years undergrads. Holding the title of an undergrad, your remaining years of high school offer many exciting experiences. From your first pep assembly as an 8th grader to your first prom as a junior these are all things to treasure.

Coming into a new school can be scary for an 8th grader, trying to rush around finding your class and finishing your homework. Not to mention trying to find your "social status" that will most likley follow you throughout your high school career.

Wow freshmen! An official high school name! You're finally not the little ones in the school but, don't get your hopes up, you still have a long way to go. Hold on tight your grades are just now starting to count.

Sophomores, what to say? You have come so far but you're still just stuck in the middle! Lots of things are still to come your way. If you thought Bio with Mr. Young was hard, just wait! This is the time when you set your path and try to make good choices. Good luck and have fun!

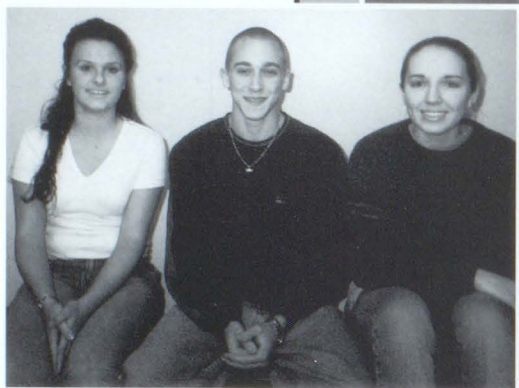

One more year is all the juniors can think of. Rushing around trying to get ready for college but still trying to study for those tough American history tests. Try to put all the rushing aside and enjoy the ride because it will be over soon. Your junior year came and is going fast, make the best of it and live it up!

Going through your undergrad years you may have many ups and downs. No matter what you do, you need to take the good with the bad and make each year you have as an undergrad one to remember.

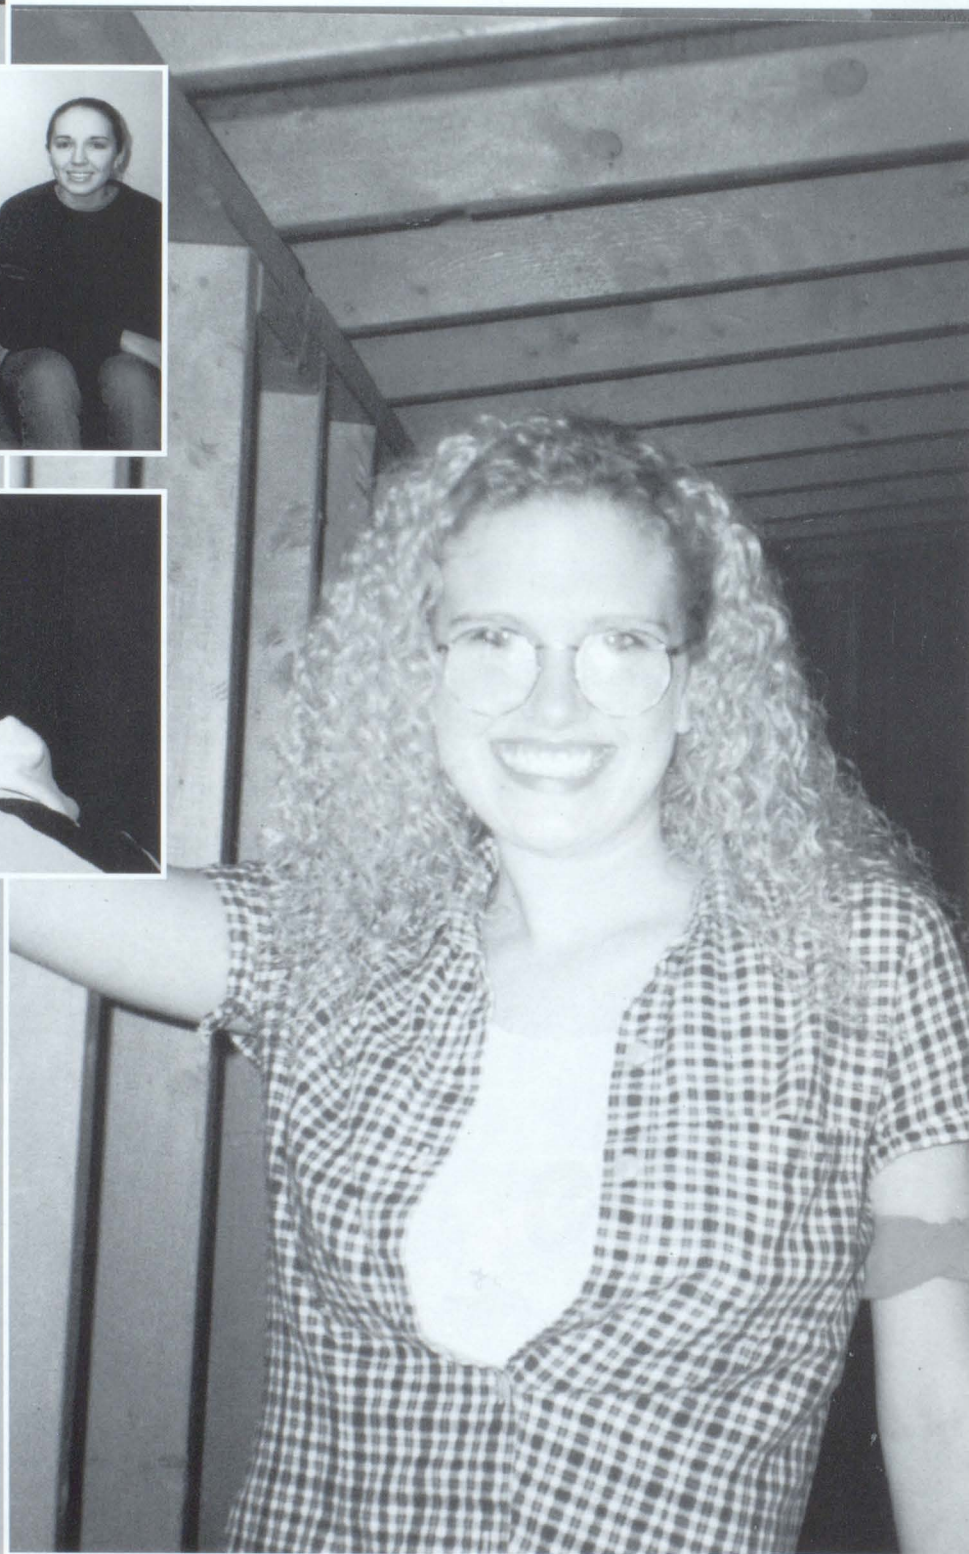

During lunch the underclassmen show how useful the extra time is.

Juniors

Junior year is finally here! Members of this class are now at the point in their lives at which they are deciding upon what college to attend or what career to pursue. Despite these huge decisions, Juniors still stay extremely involved. Some students choose to participate in extra-curricular activities, while others choose to focus on the academic part of school. Either way, they worked their hardest to achieve excellence during their time here.

Are You A Slacker?

Do you tend to put things off until the last minute? Do you find yourself sitting around with nothing to do? Do you tune out things you don't want to hear? If you've answered yes to any of the proceeding questions, you need to take this quiz.

1) You have a substitute in English class and an assignment that you need to turn in by the end of the hour. And your friends want to discuss weekend plans. Do you:

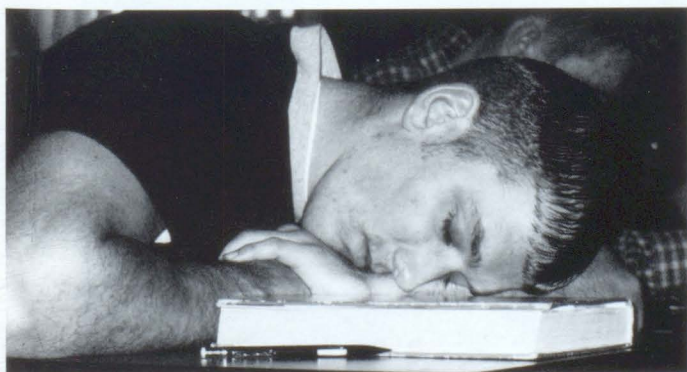

- A. Forget about the assignment and discuss your weekend plans with friends.
- B. Concentrate on getting the assignment done and on getting an 'A'?
- C. Quickly rush through the assignment so you still have time to chat. After all, one bad grade won't hurt you.

2) Your parents ask you to clean your room. Do you:

- A. Clean your room. Making sure every spot is spiffy clean.
- B. Shove everything from the floor in all the available yet unvisible spots.
- C. Throw everything in a bag and ship it out to the garbage can. Hey, it's a great way of scoring new stuff.

3) It's Monday, you have a major research paper due by Friday. Do you:

- A. Go home that night and finish it. Including 15 pages of facts, and a very elaborate visual aid.
- B. Wait a couple of days to get started. Spend a few hours on it. Then, put it into hyper drive that day before.
- C. Do it the night before. After all they call you a procrastinator, you must live up to your name.

Adam Wattney...wake up! You need to take a quiz!

4) On Friday, your boss asks you to drop off a quote at a customer's office, before Monday. Do you:

- A. Speed over there right after work, drop it off, and take the boss out to lunch (Your treat).
- B. Drop it off on Saturday, avoiding any confrontation with the customer's staff.
- C. Stop by there on Monday on your way to work. After all, your boss won't check up on you.

Points:

1) A.3 B.1 C. 2

3) A.3 B.2 C.

2) A.3 B.2 C. 1

4) A.3 B.2 C.1

SCORE:

12 through 10

Whoa! You know how to get things done. You sometimes lose track of what's important in life. Human companionship is essential to survival. Get out more and you'll be fine.

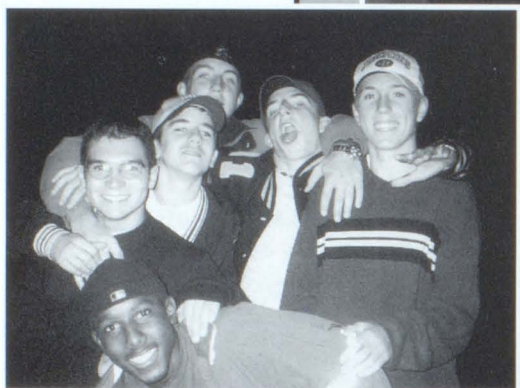

9 through 7

You definitely know how to balance school and friends. You have your priorities straight but you still like to have fun. Keep it up.

6 through 4

You need to get a life. Figure out what you want, make a plan and go for it. Try to be more assertive and demanding. Don't let people order you around.

Freshmen

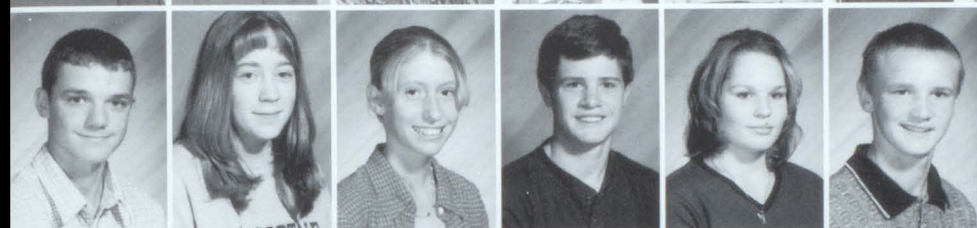

Though they have only been in the high school for one year, this class has proven itself a powerful group. After a second strong showing at Homecoming, the freshmen prevailed in February to win the Snowcoming spirit goblet. The class of 2002 is a unique collection of individuals who never fail to work together without inhibitions. This can only prove to provide winning streak that will not soon end.

Finally...HIGH SCHOOL!
The first day of school is not always the best day of the year, especially when it means going to a different building. But, not only did this year's eighth graders get a fresh start in a new school, they had the opportunity to be the first group to learn in the brand new wing. Along shiny lockers and carpeted floors, these students showed in Homecoming spirit and sports teams that they truly are rising successes.

Organizations

Involved and Active

Cooperation, dedication, and concentration all lead to organization. Have fun, be young, join a club. And why not? It's an opportunity to travel, meet new people, better yourself, and create memories you'll look back on when you're hunched from age, dipping your dentures, talking about "back in the good ol' days."

Yes, while we were here we Ba-Ha'ed around in the school van, competed in various contests, and flew to different states. We also did a lot of yelling, sharing, and competing. But somehow we miraculously united into one organization, taking home the awards in FFA, BPA, while SAVEing mother earth and saving mankind in SADD. We overcame social injustice with PALS and RAK, while exchanging foreign words, cultures, and even students in the French and Spanish Clubs.

Capac certainly has something for everyone, and whether you are organized or not, there's one place where the action certainly is...Organizations!

Jen Coman, Tina Binder
and Mandy Crandall
celebrate the day.

And the Beat Goes On

Through trials and tribulations, good times and bad, the Capac High School Band has stuck together. The greatest experience that occurred this year was the win of a first division for the band at the music festival. The first division is the highest rating that a band can get. It has been thirteen years since Capac has received this honor. That's not the only great accomplishment the band has had this year. They have also marched at all the home football games and rallied the crowd to cheer for the Chiefs. You may have also seen the band at all the home basketball games playing the Fight Song and cheering for the team. The band also held many concerts during the year and was seen in the Christmas Benefit Show. The band will conclude their year by playing at graduation and marching in the Memorial Day parade. This has been a year that can not be forgotten, especially for seniors Danielle Armstrong, Nikki Barr, Jennifer Coman, Cheryl Kaminiski, and Kristin Trombley. The Capac Band has surely proved that the beat goes on and on and on.

FFA

The Club that Keeps Growing

Cows and Pigs and Chickens. That's what Capac stands for, but not the FFA. Not only does the Capac FFA chapter concentrate on learning important agriculture skills, they also learn how to become important leaders in the work world. The organization has taken many trips this year and has had many successful competitive teams. The chapter goes to start their year at district competitions and then they go on to regional competitions. The major event that tops off the year is the Michigan State Convention that is held at Michigan State University. The select few that attend the convention have a great time at dances and meetings. Through the hard work of the FFA and their advisor, Mr. Standerfer, agriculture has become part of the day to day life of Capac High School students.

This year's organizations have done a great job towards keeping the students at Capac High School informed on very important issues. SAVE has been recycling all of our paper this year and doing a good job at it. The SADD chapter is very important to this community, they are in charge of advertising for being safe all the time. They encourage that you don't drink and drive, and that you don't do anything to harm your body or your friends. What would we do without these organizations keeping tabs on all of us? I would just like to say thank you to both organizations, and a job well done.

Choir

It's more than just singing

This years choir is more then just a class. They enjoy what they do, so learning isn't a problem. They do so much more for example concerts. They participate in the Benefit Show, Spring Arts Festival, Dinner Theater, and more. They bless people with the beautiful music they make. Every year the class takes a trip. This year they went to Washington D.C. There they learned about our capitol and saw many interesting sights. At D.C. they sang for a program called "American Sings". I bet you wish you were there.

Four County Community Foundation Youth Advisory Committee

"Four County gave me the chance to get involved. For the past seven years I have been able to see my community in way that most people never will." -- Tiffany Ellis

The Four County Community Foundation Youth Advisory Committee (YAC for short) is unlike any other group at CHS. Student members serve as liasons to the community through a non-profit foundation.

Philanthropy and community service direct the group in objective. Set up by funding from the Kellogg Corporation, the YAC is required to perform certain tasks such as conduct bi-annual needs assessments and respond to the data through grant-making. YAC members develop, admister (see inside picture), and report results independent from outside foundation control. Approximately $98,000 has been given back to the community in answer to the reported problems.

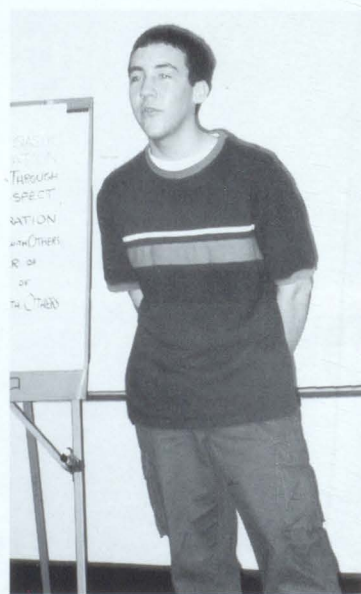

Represented in the YAC are the school districts of Almont, Armada, Capac, Dryden, Imlay City, and Romeo. As a group, these youth have dedicated themselves to not only improving their lives, but also improving the lives of others.

Far left- Jeff VanWormer exhibits his improved public speaking skills in a Dale Carnegie Training course. YAC members had the tremendous opportunity to participate in the class through a self-awarded grant.

YAC members from all around the area take a moment's break to show their enthusiasm.

YAC president Katrina Campau is able to make meetings both productive and fun. Her evident happiness only demonstrates the attitude with which these young people serve the community.

YAC Mission Statment

The purpose of the Four County Community Foundation Youth Advisory Committee is to help young people, through the practice of philanthropy, learn life-long skills that deal with caring about the community meeting educational needs, and serving the youth of our area.

PALS is a great program for making new friends. Students from the High School remember the moments they had when they were younger, when having a cooler, older kid as a friend meant a lot. Buenos dias. If you joined the Spanish Club it was required that you had been in a Spanish class before. This year the Spanish Club was very active by attending plays, restaurants, and just having a good time. In every marking period they did something different to get to know more about the Spanish culture. At first they had a club lunch where everybody had to bring something Spanish or Mexican to eat. They went out for lunch to Don Pablo's in Flint. The Spanish Club also did a fundraiser selling candy. In the 4th marking period they attended a Spanish play. The President of the Spanish Club was Megan Gerlach, a senior. All in all, the Spanish Club had a great time and tons of fun this year!

Time Out

Sports

The Tri-City Times said it best: "Capac: Village of Champions". So successful has Capac High School been in athletics that the newspaper ran a full front page article profiling our school's sports success. It was that kind of a year.

The stage was set early when the varsity football team won a dramatic victory over Tawas in the season's opening game. The team never looked back and rolled to eight more wins in route to the school's first ever 9-0 football season, and its second consecutive league championship.

Not to be outdone, the girls basketball team, which featured only one returning senior, fought and clawed its way to a league title, the second one in a row.

The golf team also turned in a great year by winning the STA league meet. Now it was on to winter sports.

The wrestling team answered the challenge in tremendous fashion. Winning both the STA regular season and league meet championships, the Chiefs continued on to a district and regional championship. The team also won many individual awards.

The boys basketball team turned in an 18-2 regular season record and won its second straight league title, and the girls track team also took the STA crown. With spring sports well on their way, it's no wonder that Capac earned its title, Village of Champions!

CapacFootball

The Best Never Rest, S.T.A Champs!

The Capac Chiefs High School football team is one to remember. For the past two years losing has not been a word in their vocabulary. The team was very determined to increase their standing record, with the influence of the newest coach, Mr. Glennie. The Capac team had to forget all they ever learned from the previous years, and they had to learn, and practice with a new attitude. The new offense was tough at first, but they fell right in to it. The chiefs are undefeated in the S.T.A for two years running. That is a great accomplishment on their part. The team will not be the same next year, because of the graduating seniors that are leaving. There have been records broken, tears shed, many, many wins, and finally a reputation of the best football team ever developed in the S.T.A.! Thank you for all of your effort Chiefs, it was worth the many days of frustration. Hopefully, next year is a repeat of the last two years.

The 1998 football season was another year to remember. Our kids have learned what it takes to play as a team, and have done what it takes to be called champions. These guys are winners, always will be in my book.

Coach Glennie

Mr. Glennie, what are you smiling for, just because your football team is the best in our area doesn't mean anything.

At right, our offensive line gets set to plow down the other team's players.

WISHING

FOR THE BEST

This year the eighth and seventh grade players gave their all out on the field. A few seventh graders were selected to play on the eighth grade game. No matter what the outcome the players always tried their hardest to do their best. This team is talented and we can count on them to carry on the Capac football spirit every time they step on to the field.

BASKETBALL

Winning is the only way

The Capac chiefs girls basketball won the S.T.A championship for the second year in a row. The chiefs offense was led by Megan Cutcher, with that in mind the chiefs went on to a 14-7 overall record. The Capac chiefs could not acquire the district trophy after losing a tough ball game to Brown City 56-40. The Chiefs head coach John Topie said he really enjoyed the team as well as their attitude. We didn't win them all but we won enough. The chiefs were also coached by assistant coach Tom Campbell. "It was really fun watching the girls play", said some parents. It made me proud to be a Capac Chief. The chiefs showed good sportsmanship toward other competitors at all times, "they're a good bunch of girls," said Mrs. Klocke. Thanks for the super season, hope it continues throughout the years.

VARSITY GOLF

It's Tee Time!

This year's golf team had a great season with many contributors. The co-captains were Joe Michniacki and Josh Pilgrim. They had great leadership for their team. The Varsity golf team had three Juniors, three Sophomores, and four Freshmen. The J.V. golf team consisted of two Sophomores and three Freshmen. The most improved players voted this year were Aaron Massie and Jeremiah Carden. The team's MVP was Nic Murray.

The golf team placed second in the STA final standings with a 11-4 record. That is exceptional, because they beat out four teams in our league. They also placed 11th at regionals. This year Nic Murray made first team all league, and Joe Michniacki made second team.

The most memorable thing that happened this year was at the Peck match when Dan Ryan got a hole-in-one on the second hole.

The golf team shows us how much they love golf (middle).

Carl Nelson, Jerimiah Carden, and Nic Murray take some time to goof off on the green.

“I am very pleased with this team's performance, being a young team, and I am looking forward to the challenge of next year when two new schools join our league”.

CROSS COUNTRY

Running Wild!

Running up and down hills, striving to reach the finish, come rain or shine... is Capac's Cross Country Team. Bang! the gun goes off as you and fifty other people dash off on a five kilometer run. Sprinting to get ahead of the pack then pacing yourself for a three mile run. Cross Country takes endurance, agility, and dedication. This year's team worked hard to accomplish what they did. At every race the team traveled to, they ran with the pride of a Chief. We say farewell to the six seniors leaving us after this year. They will be missed greatly, in hopes of younger runners filling in their shoes. That won't be as easy as you may think. Although with determination and hard work, the challenge will eventually be accomplished.

COMPETITIVE Cheer on the way to #1!

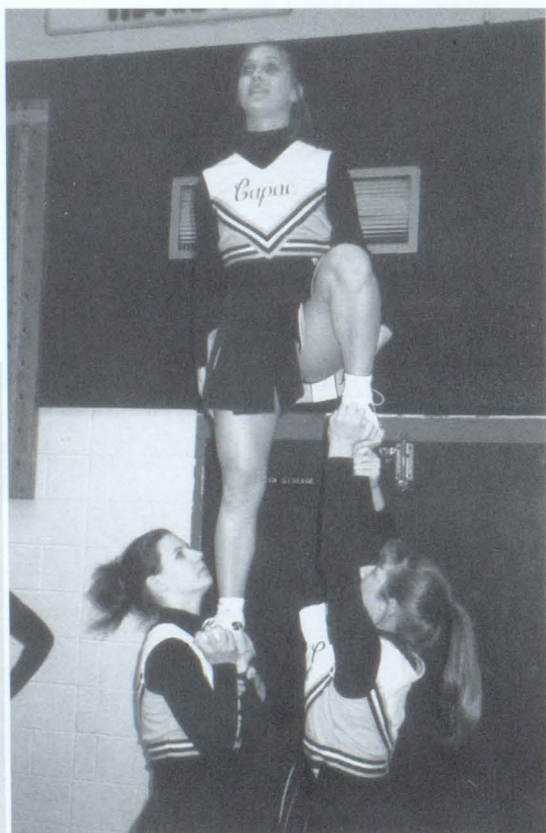

Is competitive cheer really a sport? Three hours a day these twelve girls worked just as hard as any other team. Holding a girl in the air with only two other people helping you is not that easy. What about being that girl put in the air with only hands to stand on? This team has improved dramatically from the previous years. In their competitions there are three rounds the cheerleaders compete in. The first round they are judged on level changes and ripples. Round two starts with a precision drill and it contains jumps, cartwheels and splits. The final round is called the stunt round. For this the team does as many stunts throwing girls and holding them in the air as long as possible in 2 min and 30 sec. Having STA and Regionals at home this year, Capac was just a few points away from winning both competitions. This is the best Capac has ever done. Only losing one senior we are expecting next year's team to be just as good or even better.

8th Grade Boys Basketball

KNOCKIN' OUT THE COMPETITION

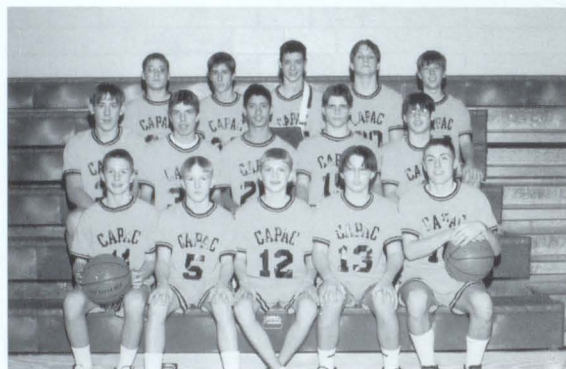

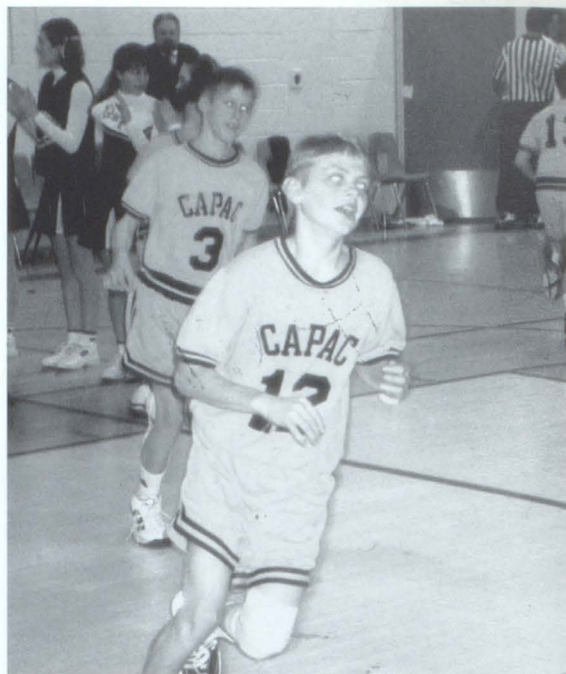

The eighth grade basketball team had a very enthusiastic season, going 8 for 12 this year. They had a lot of skill this year, along with size. They could move the ball up the floor with no problem, and their defense was very intense. Mr Klug, the head coach of the chiefs, told me that he was very proud with the group this year, and that the years to come are looking up and that we should expect some wins in the near future. The kids on the team had a lot of fun, they said there was never a dull moment in the game that they could think of.

The kids did a great job this year. They really hustled and did the best they could. I'm proud of every one of the young men that played on the eighth grade basketball team.

Coach,
Klug

Capac Chiefs 8th Grade Competitive Cheer

Cheerleading takes a lot of hard work. Each cheerleader must give 110% at all times. The 8th grade basketball cheerleaders are no exception, because this year the girls went competitive. Being competitive means practices become longer, moves must be precise and stiff; words have to be loud and spirit glowing from every cheerleader.

The girls worked extra hard this season, to have good stunts and strong cheers which paid off at competition, landing them a 4th place trophy. GOOD JOB GIRLS!

The girls show off their great spirit and their hard earned 4th place trophy.

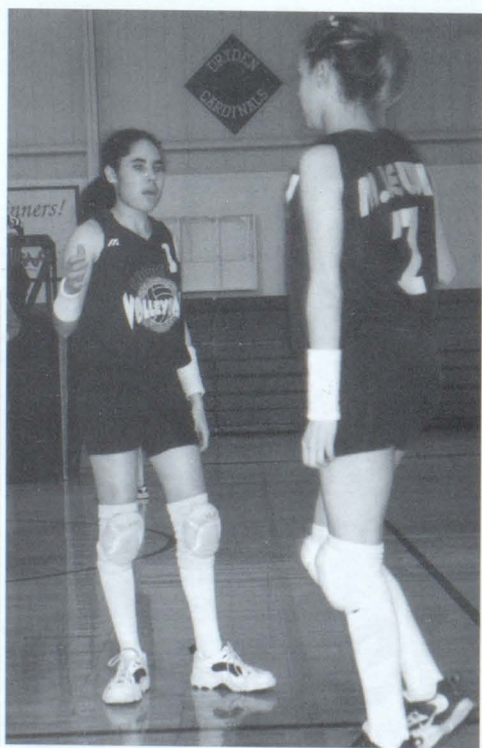

VOLLEYBALL

Bump, Spike, Win!

The Varsity Volleyball team came through with flying colors even though there were many setbacks including back injuries, pneumonia, stress fractures, etc. Their hard work and dedication pulled them through the hard times and let them have fun. This year's captains were Katie Lewis and Nikole Yanuska. They were great leaders for their team. Our girls were the youngest team in the league. With their great achievements and only losing one senior, things are looking good for the future.

Bump, Set, Spike

"This year's Junior Varsity volleyball team had a super year. They finished third in the league while everyone got the chance to learn, to improve, and to participate." So said Mr. Dale Moore, the JV volleyball coach. All season long, the team had intense, but enjoyable practices and therefore a great time. They played as a team and did the best they could. The team captains were Jessica Dzieszkowski and Stacey Callewaert who did a good job and certainly deserved being the honor. The team manager was Laura Koning, a sophomore. Also, the Freshmen and 8th grade volleyball teams had great seasons and did a good job.

SOFTBALL

Batting in a Win!

This year's softball team had a great season! They gave their best and put forth full effort in the games. With the girls' natural gifts of support and communication, they should be proud of their strong team. With many seniors in the lineup, next year will offer a new challenge to the very qualified juniors and sophomores on the team. Team Captains Megan Gerlach, Cheryl Kaminski and Nicole Kaminski did a great job and fully deserved being the Leaders of the Team!

Sliding in to Win!

According to Coach Roehring, the J.V. Softball team was a "hard working group of kids with a lot of potential." With an overall record of 6 wins, 8 losses, the J.V. Softball team has a ways to go to catch up to the Varsity Softball team's 18-7 record. With hard work and determination they should be able to reach that goal easily. Even though they may not have had a winning season, they gave it their best when they were here.

TRACK & FIELD

RUNNING THROUGH THE FINISH LINE!

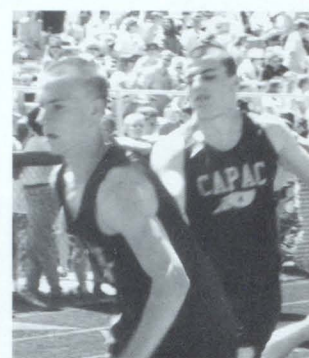

Waiting nervously in your lane waiting for the gun to go off. You're pacing yourself to beat the person in front of you the whole race. The people that do a field events also have a hard task to accomplish, to out throw, or out jump the other team. This is one feeling all track members share before their event. Both the girls and the guys track teams were always sure to give the opposing team a run for their money. They couldn't accomplish the things they did without the great leadership by the captains, the coaching, and most of all the dedication each member of the track team had and kept throughout the whole season. All of the members and coaches can be proud of the the goals they accomplished and the members finishing their race the hardest they could. Even if you finished last there were always team members cheering you on to finish the race. Great job to both teams. Just remember you will always be a winner at heart!

Special Events

Wishes Come True

Among the many academic things that go on here at CHS, there are just as many fun things. We call these things Special Events.

This year was full of special events. Special events are usually put on by clubs and organizations. This year, BPA held balloon sales for both Sweetest Day and Valentine's Day. SADD sold carnations for Valentine's Day. The National Honor Society auctioned off students as servants to the highest bidder in the annual servant day auction. The art classes painted pumpkins and sold them for Halloween.

No matter what organization puts on the events, it is almost all student oriented, because none of these events would be possible without the help of CHS students! For example, "Make a Difference Day" played a big part in special events as many students raked leaves to make the Capac neighborhood beautiful.

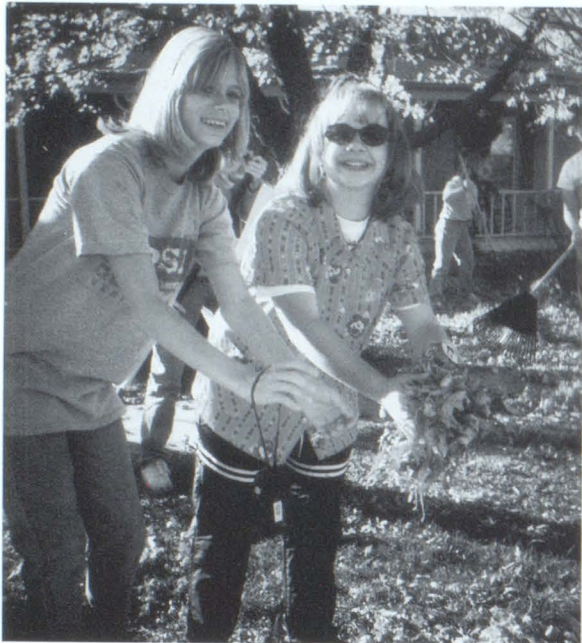

Students also helped put on a Halloween party for the elementary students, complete with face painting and fortune telling.

But clearly the greatest special event of the year (and perhaps in the history of Capac!) was the homecoming parade of the ex-prisoner of war, Sgt. Chris Stone (CHS class of '91). A televised parade down Main Street featured the efforts of practically the entire school--students, teachers, and parents. The parade featured the Capac marching band, the choir, the cheerleaders, and plenty of other parade participants and organizers. It was probably the biggest special events in the history of Capac High School. See pages 208-211.

And so, a number of special events this year have made for a memorable school year. If it weren't for CHS students and the special events which they put on each year, school would be all work and no play. This year, however, school was special enough to be remembered for a long, long time.

Make A Difference Day

Showing what a great job they are able to do by raking all these many leaves are Lindsey Colby and Katrina Campau.

Erin Bosch is obviously having fun, but aren't you supposed to rake the leaves and not to throw 'em all over the place again?!

Jessica Berlin is putting her nicest smile on her face just to show how much fun she is having.

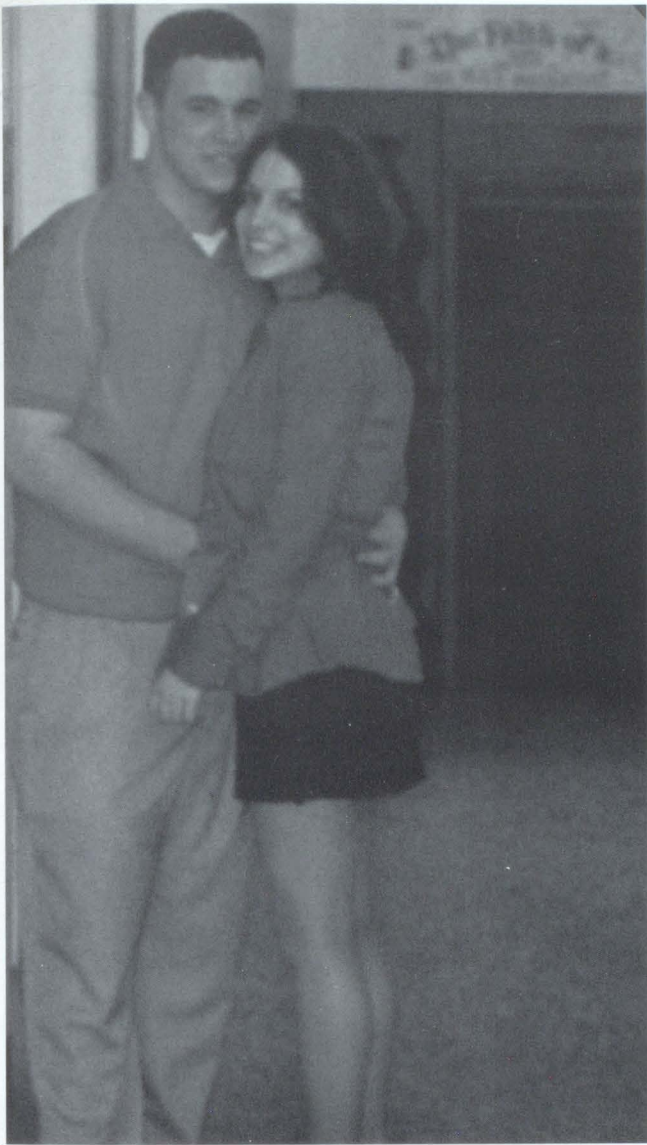

Even Mr. Cutler is doing his best and working very hard for Make A Difference Day.

All these students are working hard as they rake leave for Make A Diference Day.

Melissa Hedlund and Maggie Fuller think it is great helping other people.

Sweetest Day is the sweetest when you share it with your sweetheart. Here Nick Wagner and Tina Binder share a smile.

There's a pot of gold at the end of every rainbow, this treasure happens to be Jen Coman.

"Kiss me, I'm beautiful," Cupid must have struck Danielle Armstrong and Tina Hummel this Valentine's Day.

Eight In the State

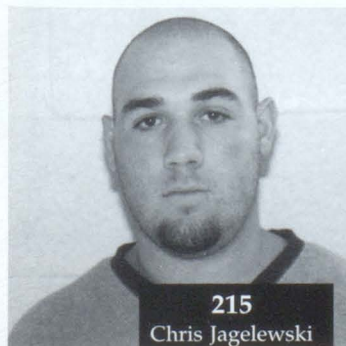

After their very exciting Regional victory the Varsity wrestling team tells everyone that they are #1! The team advanced to State finals in Battle Creek Michigan. The Chiefs fell to Carson City Crystal in the first round. Nothing to be ashamed about, this season was a season to remember.

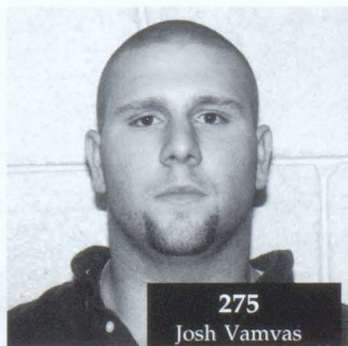

As part of the deal the chiefs went to state finals bald. Including Coach Vamvas who is wincing with anticipation to see his new hair-do.

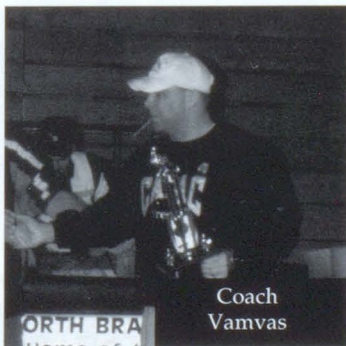

William Schmidt screams with excitement that the Chiefs made it to wrestling finals.

Plaid Shirt Night

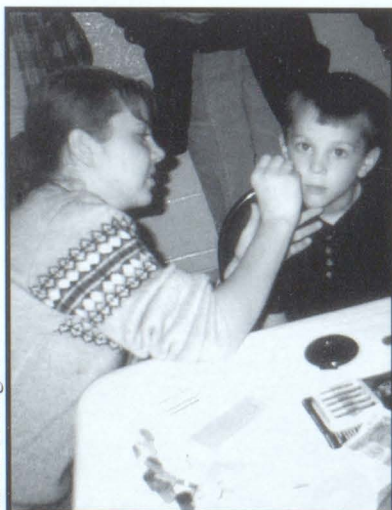

Every November, hunters from miles around converge at Capac High School for PLAID SHIRT NIGHT, the pep rally at the start of hunting season. For the past 20 years, this fundraising event has raised money to support Capac teachers and students. At the elementary school, PLAID SKIRT NIGHT provided mom and the kids with a fashion show, crafts, bake-sales, exciting raffles and entertainment!

"I loved the dance! I hope the next one is a tango!"

--Maggie Fuller

MOCK ROCK

"The mock rock was a blast! It just showed that Capac can rock the charts just as easy as any Milli Vanilli!"

--Jeff Behrick

OH MY GOSH....IT'S THE BACKSTREET BOYS!

A new addition to this year's Snowcoming festivities was the first annual Mock Rock. Student groups choreographed dance moves, put together costumes, and perfected lip movements just so they could be deemed the "ultimate posers." When the performances were over, it was Jeff Behrick, Steve Grone, Billy Behrick, Brian Enrici, and Scott Bilinsky with their rendition of Backstreet Boys' "Everybody" that prevailed. With such acts, the contest's popularity was overwhelming making it a hot demand for next year.

SNOWCOMING'S OTHER COURT

The 1999 court was as spirited as ever, and a little daring at that-even the presence of the Capac Police could not calm down this group! As in the past, the king and queen were determined by lunchtime penny wars to raise Student Council scholarship funds. After the spare change was collected, Junior Class representatives Aaron Guigar and Nicole McMahan were crowned. Other representatives include seniors Danielle Armstrong and Paul Camire, sophomores Laura Lentz and Steve Gorski, freshmen Ryan Soullier and Lindsey Tonkin, and 8th graders Craig Hilliker and Hannah Bollaert.

"THAT'S WHAT I LIKE ABOUT YOU!"

The Snowcoming dance was like no other at Capac High School this year. With the mock rock built in, students were bound for an exciting night celebrating their team's victory. The diversity in music and activity allowed every party-go-er, even those non-dancers, to enjoy their evening. Zach Chupa, John Crandle, and Shayne Malecki illustrate that understated excitement perfectly.

HOW HIGH CAN IT GET?

More than ten years ago, big hair was the thing to have--the bigger it got, the cooler the wearer was! But as Sarah McLaren shows, the coolness here at CHS extends beyond decades. With a little help from classmate Gayle Chupa, Sarah managed to have the biggest 'do of the school; the problem though was getting out all the hairspray!

Florida, Myrtle Beach...anywhere your parents aren't and your friends are, that's the place to be!

Spring Break

Finally, we get almost two weeks off of school to spend our time playing in the sun. Most of us leave and go anywhere possible to get out of Capac. Fleeing to Myrtle Beach, Orlando, or anywhere else where the sun is shining. We make memories that will stay with us for a life time.

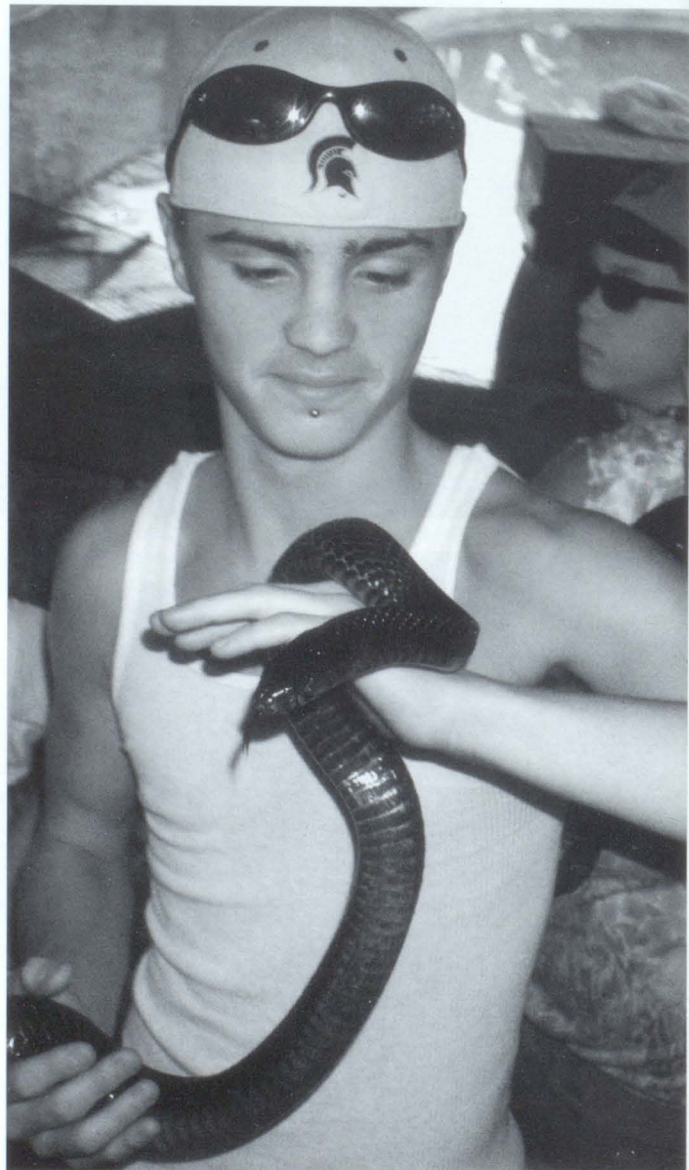

When we look back at the pictures we remember how much fun we really had! Could you imagine going skydiving, scuba diving, holding a slimy snake, or anything to that extreme? Some of us could never imagine doing things like that, but it is spring break. Everyone does stuff unimaginable. For the lucky people that get to stay in Capac, the scenery is usually the mall, parties, or just bumming around home. As you look at these memorable pictures, don't you just wish you were there?

Shauna Richardson yells "Save me, you handsome guy, Oh I mean Shannon Anderson."

Dinner Theater

Shoo-Bop; Be-Bop; Hip-Hop...A

Century of Song was the theme for the 1999 Dinner Theater.

With the diligent work of both the Capac High School Choir and

Centre Stage, the show was once again a success.

Stephanie Skuratowicz and Mr. Blundell go acoustic for their version of John Denver's "Leaving on a Jet Plane." Many choir members had the opportunity to sing solos and put their own "spin" on old favorites.

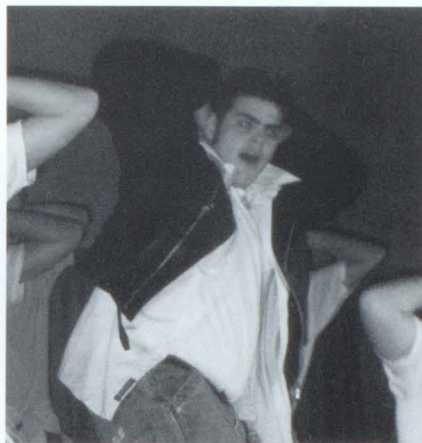

Yyyyoohhhhhh.... you set the audience aflame with that fever! In her second Dinner Theater solo performance, choir president Gayle Chupa captured the audience with her explosive stage personality.

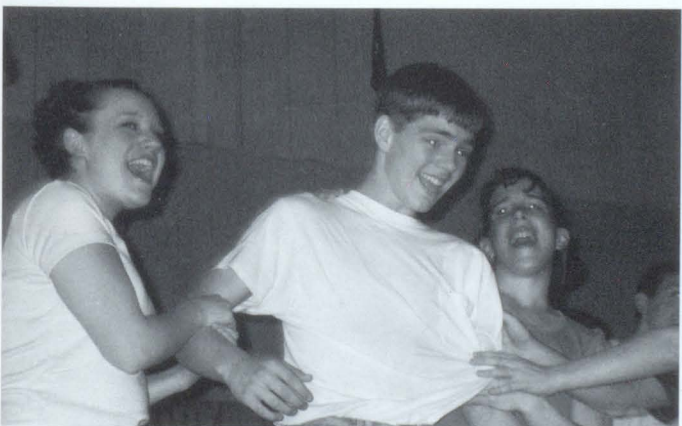

Yeah! CHS choir members proved once again spending an evening at school CAN be fun. The show was both exciting and entertaining so these choir members have a right to be happy.

Tico, Tico....go Sarah Hayes and Amie Thomas as they show what dramatics are meant to be. This year's dinner theater featured songs that stretched not only across time, but also across the map.

Bob Craig is "All shook up," with excitement about the choir's performance in the 1999 Dinner Theater. Choerographed by both choir students and volunteers, members learn dance moves for weeks before the actual performance.

GIDDE'UP!

Hey, look...it's the Village People! Oh, no, it's just Jeff Behrick playing dress-up...for the CHS dinner theater! The high school choir and select ensemble performed their very own rendition of "YMCA" with great enthusiasm.

Amber Burke has just one of the many hearts A.J. Durand has stolen with his sly moves and sweet talk. Be careful girls....don't rip the shirt! To go along with the theme "A Century of Song," choir members wore outfits to correspond with each time period that was represented in the show.

Sadness and smiles are both evident as 1999 senior choir members join arms together for one last song. Their final bow was in fact a memorable one. Because so many of the seniors have participated in choir since freshmen year, the last song was more emotional than many expected.

Community Support

Our local businesses are important because they help the community bring in more income, buy new things, and provide services.

We are real fortunate to have so many supportive businesses in Capac and its surrounding areas. Many of these businesses provide after school and summertime jobs to students. One such business is Mr. R's. "It's a great hangout," said sophomore Mike Ballerini. "a lot of kids work there and it's kind of in the middle of town."

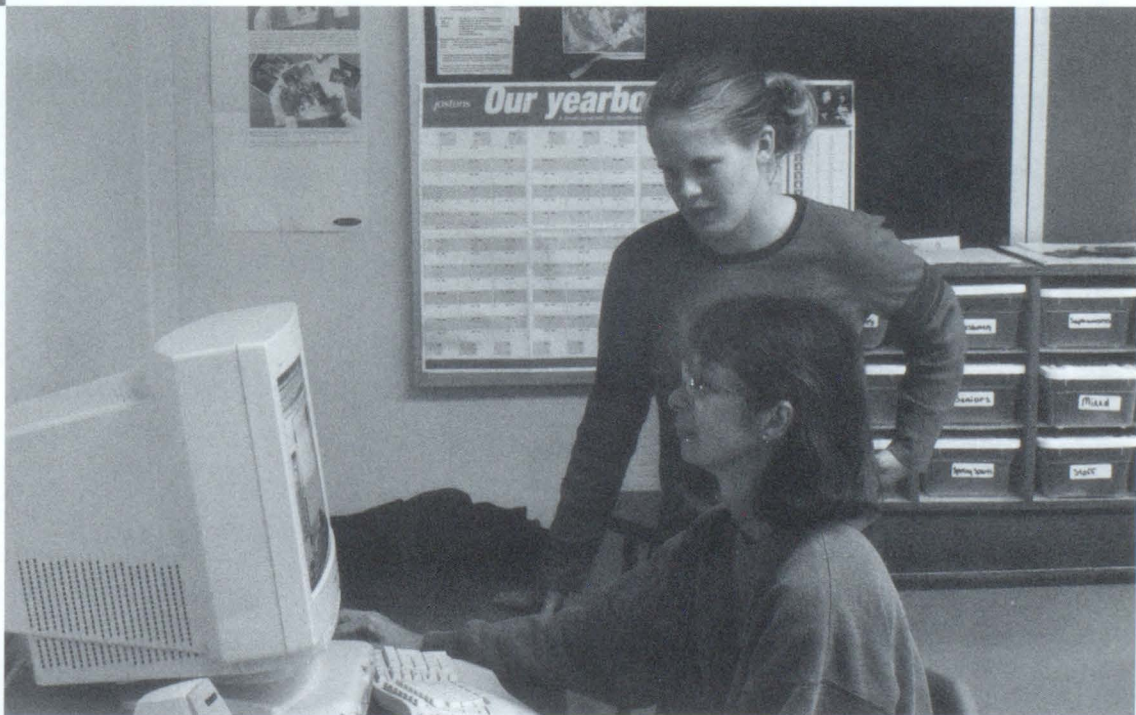

Monica Fielitz has worked at Subway since November. "It's fun when there's no adults around," she joked. "Actually, it's been great. Working there has helped me to meet new people, which is good because I just moved here this year."

Crystal Blumerich works at Quality Farm & Fleet in Imlay City. She just started two weeks ago but says it's been fun. "It's the kind of job where you have to get your hands dirty," she said.

Junior Tracie Thompson puts a different slant on things in regards to her job at Wendy's. "Everybody talks about everybody," she said, and added, "Everyone is all up in everyone else's business." Sounds interesting, but is the food any good??

Kristie Coman is between jobs at the moment but hopes to get a job with Vlastic's. They pay well and you get good hours," she said.

With so many students working it is easy to see just how important our local businesses really are. One way to return the support is to patronize the businesses in our ad section. If we take care of them, we can no doubt count on them taking care of us.

Business Ads

Paying the Bills

You cannot put a price on a memory. Your days here at Capac Jr./Sr. High School are full of memory-making times and the Yearbook captures all those memories and puts them into one low-priced, high-quality book. All those priceless memories are organized neatly into more than 200 exciting pages. How do we do it you may ask? How can the yearbook staff do something so extraordinary? The cost to produce a yearbook is very great and the money raised from the sale of the book does not cover its cost. Therefore, we rely on our local businesses to help out. By placing ads in the back of our book, local businesses help defray some of the cost of the book.

Ad day is one day where the Capacian Yearbook staff take the day to collect the many ads. Staffers are grouped up and sent to an assigned town to sell as many ads as they can. It is a hectic, action-packed experience into the business world. Staffers learn first hand just how fickle the business world is, and how much their support means to the production of our book.

So as you reminisce through the pages of this year's edition of The Capacian, remember that our support comes not only from the student body, but also from the community at large. Without them, all of the glamour and glitz just wouldn't be possible.

Your Connection To The Experts

Education Is One Of The Few Investments That Always Appreciates In Value.

With every tough math problem, every long history lesson, every nail-biting exam, a young person's mind can't help but grow. And grow. So it is with great pleasure that we congratulate all those involved in the pursuit of quality education. It's the kind of investment that will always yield a handsome return.

CAPAC'S OWN

April 1, 1999 started out like any other April fool's day - Day before Spring Break, milder weather, and spring fever. For the unsuspecting town at large, however, a bigger picture began to emerge when the media trucks and satellites started to roll in. The high school phones rang off the hook, and for a time no one was sure what was happening! Capac High School 1991 alumni Christopher Stone had been captured in Bosnia and the world wanted to know about him...

LEFT: Candlelight Vigil plans.

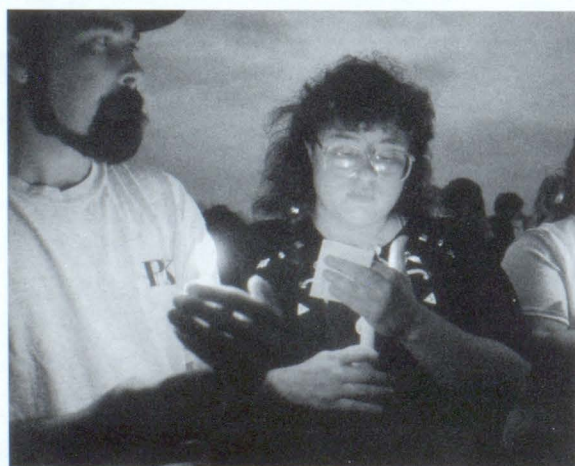

BELOW : Students preparing the vigil materials.

LOWER: Sgt. Stone's family pray for his return.

BELOW: Senior Amanda Dobbryn and Junior Nicole McMahan are interviewed by a reporter from The Boston Globe!

Who'd have ever thought!

- CAPTURED!

"I may have met Chris Stone, once. It's personal now. It is no longer a detached police action. It's in their (Serbian) best interest to return the prisoners."

-Mitch Schrader

LEFT: An extraordinary effort was put forth by student groups and community members to tie yellow ribbons on area trees and residential homes, a poignant reminder of the plight of our servicemen.

BELOW: The Stone Family and U.S. Army media representative meet to answer questions in Port Huron.

BELOW RIGHT: The view that greeted all visitors to the high school - CAPAC had become the CENTER of the UNIVERSE!

THE RETURN OF

The release of captured 1991 Capac High School graduate Sgt. Chris Stone called for a celebration! TV station Fox 2 stepped in, and with counselor Kathy Kish's instrumental input, an event was arranged to commemorate this important event in Capac's history in just one week. One we will all remember!

RIGHT: Sgt. Christopher Stone, wife Tricia, and son Ryan greet the crowd of well-wishers!

Happy parents James & Edith Stone

Throngs of wellwishers line our streets!

Sgt. Stone and Fox 2 anchor Huell Perkins

Capacian 1999 -
"Wish you were here" was produced by the Capac High School yearbook staff under the direction of Tom Manney, advisor.
The 1999 Capacian
was printed and
bound by Jostens,
Inc. of Clarksville,
Tennessee. Subscription rate was $38 for undergraduates and $35 for seniors with a circulation of 375.
Capacian 1999 is the first fall edition yearbook for Capac High School.
The yearbook staff
would like to thank Leslie Ballerini for her unlimited efforts.
